Wentworth family gathers in Searsmont

by Bev Wentworth

Moody Mountain in Searsmont was the setting recently for the annual Moody Mountain Gathering of the Wentworth family and some of their closest

Voters may request absentee ballots

Registered voters may now request an absentee ballot for the November 2, 2010 general election. Requesting an absentee ballot is even easier now for many Mainers thanks to a website allowing registered Maine voters in participating municipalities to request their absentee ballot online. Even if your municipality does not participate, you may use the site to print an absentee ballot request form. You can then fill out the form and take it to your town office.

This service is available at www.maine.gov/cgi-bin/online/AbsenteeBallot/index.pl.

If you are not registered to vote or are unsure if you are registered, you should contact your local elections official. A list of local elections officials may be found at <http://maine.gov/sos/cec/elec/votreg.htm>. If you have any questions about absentee voting or registering, contact the Office of the Secretary of State at 207-624-7650.

friends. The Mountain Gathering is in addition to the annual Wentworth reunion in August that has happened for the past 126 years.

The event consists of the children of Bertha and Leslie (Pete) Wentworth, who, for many years lived on Moody Mountain, where they raised their 10 children. This year their three remaining children, Richard Wentworth, Gertrude Dickey, and Joseph Wentworth attended. Others included children, grandchildren, and even great grandchildren of all of the 10 siblings. The family friends included Connie and Wes Keep, of Whitefield, who are just like family to the Wentworth's. In total there were 56 people in attendance, including families from Windsor, Whitefield, and other surrounding towns. The ages ranged from 98 (Richard), to his twin great grandsons Gavin and Noah, who are 14 months old.

This weekend's gathering was the 13th reunion. As the years have gone by, the gathering has gotten larger and lasted longer. This year was highlighted by a 90 pound pig roast. Almost any food imagined can be had there. Games for the little ones, potato guns, stilts in various sizes, balloons, long walks, and lots of other forms of amusement are part of the weekend. In the beginning it was a day-long event, but these days, some of the family have started camping overnight. On any given year, people stay in tents, trailers, camper-trucks, and sometimes in the small camp on the property. Some hardy folks have even begun staying from Friday night right through Sunday afternoon.

In the evening everyone who stays over sits around the campfire and talks and tells stories about people and events that have happened through the years. It is a great family tradition that everyone hopes will continue for many, many more years to come.
