Dental Health Month

February is National Dental Health Month. To encourage effective dental health, the Windsor Veterinary Clinic is having our annual Dental Health Promotion. For the month of February we have put together dental cleaning packages at a 10% discount. Call us to schedule a dental cleaning for your pets and take advantage of this money saving opportunity. This discount will also apply to all dental home care products, including dental diets such as T/D and Oral Care, when purchased at the time of the dental cleaning.

"Doggie Breath" is commonly the first sign of an infection. Like people, animals develop gum diseases like gingivitis, and other dental infections which can start before three years of age. This progresses to the formation of the hard brown substance called calculus, which begins to form as disease worsens. This leads to painful exposed tooth roots, gum infections, and can actually lead to kidney and heart damage. (Some people with heart issues take antibiotics prior to dental cleanings for this reason.) Professional cleaning is appropriate and necessary if you see this calculus developing on your pets' teeth.

Continuing dental care at home is also necessary to maintain you pet's health (just as your own), and there are many options to fit everyone's needs including diets, rinses, pet toothpaste, and treats. Call our office to speak with a member of our staff for more information.
